In the City of Davenport, we encourage community engagement. In addition, we want to be open and transparent in all of our decision making and planning. To accomplish that goal, we want all of our citizens to be part of the input and review process.

The City of Davenport has thirteen boards, commissions and committees that serve our community and play an important role in the governance of our city.

Citizens who volunteer on boards and commissions provide a direct conduit from the residents of Davenport to your elected officials. Membership is not to be taken lightly but should be considered as a contribution to maintain and improve the quality of life in our community. These groups are valuable assets and effective partners with the City Council and City staff in guiding the future of Davenport.

The satisfaction of serving in a volunteer capacity as a member of a public board or commission is a personal achievement and provides a sound basis for further public service. Board and Commission members provide a valuable link to the community and to the various interests that make up the community. They assist in the development of policy recommendations to the City Council, provide leadership and support to city staff, promote the city and its programs, and provide expertise in specialized areas.

Are you or someone you know interested in applying for this important role?

Over the next year, we will have over sixty openings due to term expirations and occasional resignations. We are committed to fill vacancies as quickly as possible. The Office of the Mayor accepts applications for any board, commission, or committee at all times. The application will remain active for one year from the date of receipt. Applications that remain on file will be reviewed when a vacancy becomes available or when a term is due to expire. The City of Davenport seeks individuals who are motivated, dedicated, and ready to make a positive impact on their community.
